

Welcoming Cities Guide to Successful Accreditation

Welcoming Cities supports local councils, and their communities, to work towards greater social, cultural, civic and economic success. Assessment and accreditation as a Welcoming City allows councils to benchmark progress and identify gaps in their welcoming and inclusion practice.

Benefits of Accreditation

Accreditation through Welcoming Cities has a range of benefits, including:

- Increasing the impact of council initiatives for the whole community
- Providing a mechanism to plan for improvement and change
- A positive and welcoming reputation; and,
- Opportunities for shared learning.

Timelines and Personnel

A dedicated leader from within council should be assigned for the development of the accreditation submission, preferably someone who can leverage inter-departmental action in the collation of evidence against each criterion. Up to one year should be allowed for councils to develop their accreditation submission. Up to three months should be allowed for the submission to be assessed.

Support and Guidance

Welcoming Cities accreditation provides constructive feedback on relative categories in the Welcoming Cities Standard (the Standard) by identifying strengths, opportunities and recommendations against each.

Once a council has received approval to go through the accreditation at the desired level, a meeting will be held with relevant Welcoming Cities staff and members of council who will be leading the accreditation. Welcoming Cities acknowledges the work required to submit evidence for assessment.

During this time staff are available to advise users on the process and provide constructive feedback on appropriate forms of evidence.

Assessment levels

To cater for the diversity of Local Councils, and their communities, The Welcoming Cities Standard has a range of assessment and accreditation levels.

Level	Description	Assessment
 Committed <small>WELCOMING CITY</small>	A Committed local council has publicly stated their intent to champion the principles of welcoming and inclusion. Committed local councils join a network of like-minded peers, and gain the benefit of support and experience to chart their progress and identify the next steps towards becoming a Welcoming City.	Welcoming Cities Commitment Form signed by either the Mayor or CEO

Comments

Users will include relevant additional and explanatory comments to further support compliance within each indicator. The following table shows an example of a high scoring submission from the City of Greater Bendigo assessment. Using indicator 2.21 of the Standard (Celebrating community festivals, cultural events, religious observances that represent diversity and encourage dialogue), the user added context and a well-formed narrative that further supported the evidence provided.

Determining Success

Successful accreditation is determined by the quality of evidence supplied for each indicator in the Standard. The score required to gain accreditation changes depending on the level of accreditation council is trying to achieve:

- For the Established level, council must score over 3.5/5 (70%).
- For the Advanced level, council must score over 3.5/5 (70%).
- For the Excelling level, council must score over 4/5 (80%).

A council's final score is calculated in the following manner:

- Each indicator will have a score of 1-5, based on compliance against the Assessment Rubric.
- The average score across indicators will create the score for the category.
- The average score across all categories will be the final score for the assessment.

Focus Groups

In addition to the scoring outlined above, focus groups to further determine the level of compliance for some indicators will be conducted at the Advanced and Excelling levels. These sessions may involve members of the community, local business owners and other council staff. The focus groups supplement and further build on the documentary evidence provided for the accreditation.

Further Information Required

Once the assessment is submitted for review, an assessor may ask for further information or further evidence to support the submission. Users will be given adequate time to submit the required documentation.

Re-Submission

Once the level of accreditation is determined, a member of the Welcoming Cities staff will provide council with the final score and detailed report. If a user is unsatisfied with the outcome, they may have recourse to re-submit within an agreed timeline.

Assessment Report

After submission, an extensive public report that provides a discussion of the strengths, opportunities and recommendations for each category is provided to the council. A less extensive report is provided at the Advanced level, with no formal report provided at the Established level. It will also note the average of council's accreditation outcomes against each of the relevant Indicators. This report is intended to be a public document that will contribute to other council's learnings and future work.

Becoming an Accredited Welcoming City

An accredited Welcoming City is a council in Australia who has received accreditation. Councils receive a trophy and a certificate. Welcoming Cities will support councils to adequately celebrate this achievement. All Welcoming Cities will be able to apply for the Local Government / Welcoming Cities award.

Mentoring Level

All Councils that achieve the Excelling level can apply to be recognised as a Mentoring Welcoming City. To be considered, a Council must submit a letter to the Welcoming Cities Advisory Committee, outlining their actions to:

- provide leadership to the local government sector;
- build the capacity of the sector; and
- demonstrate innovation in welcoming initiatives.

Accreditation Scoring Rubric

Users will use the Welcoming Cities Accreditation Assessment Rubric below to assess their compliance level.

Evidence category:

Council policy/plan/framework evidence

Compliance Level/s:

1. No compliance

No evidence of the existence of a relevant policy/plan/strategic framework.

2. Low compliance

A relevant policy/plan/strategic framework is in the planning or development phase.

3. Partial compliance

There is a relevant and current policy/plan/strategic framework, but no plans for review exist; there is no clear party responsible and/or desired outcomes detailed.

4. High compliance

The relevant policy/plan/strategic framework is current and regularly reviewed, spanning (at least) the three-year Accreditation period.

Key responsibilities and/or intended stakeholders are defined, along with desired outcomes/asures.

5. Full compliance

The policy/plan/strategic framework is embedded in various functions in the council.

Policies are active across a range of functions/departments in the council.

As well as responsibilities being defined, there is advocacy from senior leaders within the council (e.g. endorsement by the mayor or senior councillors).

Evaluation practices exist to continuously improve policy.

Evidence category:

Implementation evidence

Compliance Level/s:

1. No compliance

No evidence of implementation of relevant policy.

2. Low compliance

Implementation is in the planning or development phase.

3. Partial compliance

Some activities exist, but these may be irregular, isolated or have only partially defined target groups; they could be made better to meet the needs of target audiences.

4. High compliance

There are a range of established activities, with clearly defined target audiences and outcomes. Activities are tailored to meet the needs of intended stakeholders.

Reference groups or project leads have responsibility for delivery, and evaluation measures may be present.

5. Full compliance

Practices are normalised as part of daily operations and have been proven successful in meeting the needs of stakeholders. There is evidence that any content is accessed and used by target audience(s).

An evaluation process exists to improve desired outcomes.

There may be a history of implementation, with demonstrated actions and outcomes.
